Development of navigation from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic by way of the St. Lawrence, and of im-provements generally to harbors on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. STATE OF UNION

Nothing in the constitution provides that the President shall report to Congress on the state of the Union, but, said President Coolidge, "the present state of the Union is such that it may be regarded with encouragement and satisfaction by every American."
"Our domestic problems are for the most part economic," he added. "We have our enormous debt to pay and we are paying it. We have the high cost of Government to diminish and we are diminishing it. We have a heavy burden of taxation to reduce and we are reducing it."

The nation, he said, has definitely relinquished "the old standard of dealing with other countries by terror and fear and is definitely committed to the new standard of dealing with them through friendship and understanding."

"The old standards," he added, "are passing away. I am especially solicitous that foreign nations shall comprehend the candor and sincerity with which we have adopted this position."

Large Hotel Will be Built

While not precisely a public meeting, the gathering held under the auspices of the Victoria West Brotherhood last evening at Semple's Hall, in connection with the municipal election, largely partook of that character, for the majority attending were probably not members of the Brotherhood.

Occasionally there was some acerbity shown, as when Alderman Andros alleged that Mr. Pendray was the candidate of Alderman Todd, and that if the electors chose him to be mayor. Mr. Pendray would take the opinion of Alderman Todd, and take the opinion of Alderman Todd take the opinion of Alderman Todd. Another big surprise of the day was the Canadian successes in timothy seed and clover seed. In the former the Canadians won nine out of fifteen places, and six out of fifteen in the latter, representing one-half of the places in the two events.

the Brotherhood.

Occasionally there was some acerbity shown, as when Alderman Andros alleged that Mr. Pendray was the candidate of Alderman Todd, and that if the electors chose him to be mayor, Mr. Pendray would take the opinion of Alderman Todd as senior alderman, on every question, This assertion by Alderman Andros was warmly repudiated by Mr. Pendray, who said Mr. Todd had nothing to do with his sandidature.

Alderman Sargent also warmly challenged the claim of Mr. Brodwer.

When the mayoralty candidates had spoken it was already late, and there were calls for some of the aldermanic and police commissioner candidates to address the meeting, but the chairman said the meeting had been called for mayoralty candidates only, and the opportunity would be restricted to them.

TOURIST TRAFFIC

Taking up the question of ex-Alderman Christie's statement that one company made $40,000 profit last Summer out of tourists he expressed his surprise that there was any firm making a turnover of $400,000, allowing a turnover of $400,000, allowing the per cent. profit The Bureau had brought in the C.P.R. to build the Crystal Garden, and when it was built the place would be ready to be lessed for use. The Bureaus work had caused $625,000 to be expended in Victoria, he asserted.

Mr. Pendray traced the history of the Sidney-Anacortes, and Sidney-Billingham ferry connections, and said they would never have seen the Crystal Garden started unless the Bureau had made progress in tourist affairs far more than the city's industries committee had been able to make. He then quoted the experience with the Port Angeles ferry, and the Mill Bay ferry.

Five hotels from May 1 to September 30 showed a registration of 116,000 people, he said.

Mr. Pendray illustrated the claim that the local industries could be started, and sustained, by referring to the Hiker Toy Works, and the Sidney Roofing Company whose companies had benefited by his selling organizations on the prairies and in the Antipodes.

Turning to the reverted lands question, he said they wanted a business man, who understood the selling end of the business, and would put the land on the market at the ripe time. The candidate deciared his firm had never would. Some of the employees and would put the industrial expansion, he would point out. Mr. Pendray was well received.

N A LETTER TO THE London Times a correspondent-points out that there is no need for the people of Great Britain to send any money to the United States for apples. British Columbia's success at the great show in Birmingham recently should have proved conclusively that this Province can hold its own in this particular sphere of orchard production.

There never has been any other all important pecuniary reason for British money going to the United States and other foreign countries to buy goods which are produced in the Empire. That pecuniary consideration is a very important question with the British usewife and the British consumer in the wide field of trade and commerce. It has become a fixed part of the political and domestic econ-omy of the Old Country and there is only one way that Canada, or any other part of the Empire, can get round it, and that is by constant dvertising and organization and

The argument has point; but a large element will consider the moral consideration and object to any wider sale and consumption of liquor. It would contend that cheaper liquor would be to the general detriment.

Conservatives who demand that the liquor business shall be divorced from politics should insist that representatives in the Senate endorse a bill prohibiting private importation into Canada. Y ESTERDAY'S ASSEM-bly of the House of Com-mons in London was another re-minder of the inadequate seating capacity of that historic chamber. capacity of that historic chamber. The ceremony being merely formal, however, and only of short duration, apparently no attempt were made to apparently no attempt was made to accommodate all the 615 who repaccommodate all the 615 who represent the personnel of the lower House. When Mr. Philip Snowden delivered his budget speech last April it was quite a different matter and the occupants of press and public galleries were somewhat thrilled to see nearly forty seats in the Distinguished Strangers Gallery occupied by the elected representatives of the people, some of whose comments from the higher altitude, as the business of the afternoon and evening proceeded, struck noon and evening proceeded, struck an altogether unfamiliar note and emphasized the novelty of the first Labor budget. With the exception of the reverse positions of Conservatism and Labor in the House itself, there is very little change in recognized seating arrangement. In the last Parliament the Liberals sat below the gangway, with Mr. Asquith and Lloyd George on the front benches nearest to the Ministry. They will still be near the clock on the other side—but the Welsh-man will miss "H.H."

THE ANNUAL MESSAGE

IN HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE to Congress President Coolidge has not overstepped his clearly de-fined attitude to questions of foreign concern. He reiterates his contention that the United States would be well advised to adhere to the World Court of International Justice; but retains his objection to American membership in the League of Nations. In respect of disarma-ment he considers that it is not the time for the republic to make a move; but to wait and watch the outcome of the proposal to hold such a gathering in Europe under the auspices of the League of Nations at which, presumably, the United States would be officially repre-

tions of new prosperity in the neigh-boring republic it was not supposed that the President, within the limits of his well known policy, would endow his annual message with any new garnishings. His observations on the tariff, in which Canada is more directly interested, are not re-counted, if there were any, in the dispatch which reached us over the wires to-day. In this respect, how-ever, there is little likelihood of any change at present. He is being pressed by the Democrats to give some attention to the textile in-dustry and consider the effect of the present tariff on it. His opponents contend that here is a case where purchasing power has to be taken

A New York City to make it acrime to cross the street in the middle of the block and to confine crossings to the corners where traffic policemen are stationed. "If such regulations are adopted," says Mr. Dow, secretary to Deputy Commissioner Collier, head of the Safety Bureau, "It will mean the saving of about two hundred lives a year, not to speak of the persons who will be saved from injury. "Within the nine months of this year 366 persons lost their lives through being hit by motor vehicles. 224 were jay walkers who lest their lives not at crossings, and 142 at crossings, but of the latter a large-majority were also jay walkers." Mr. Dow added that when the police have the power to restrain all jay walking, the death toil can be halved.

The danger to the person who crosses the street in the middle of the block is fifteen times greater than that involved in crossing at the cerner.

In order properly to protect the public it is not only necessary to subject the motor driver to law, but also the pedestrian. It is becoming more and more difficult to drive a motor through the public streets of a crowded city and the same authority which prevents walking on the railroad tracks should be exerted to prevent people from crossing the street in the middle of the block.

An ordinance of the crime in question should be passed by the Municipal Assembly or, if the city authorities will not do it, then by state legislation.

The public must be protected even against itself and the loss of life and property has been too great, by automobile, to have this matter utterly dismissed.

Hinchliffe Wants Immediate Action; Problem Simple, Says Labor Member

That the Government take immediate steps to relieve unnite unemployment policy is the suggestion advanced by Joshua Hinchliffe, Conservative, Victoria, in a resolution, notice of which was given yesterday. The Hinchliffe motion is as follows:

Hinchliffe motion is as follows:

"Whereas the situation in regard to unemployment in the Province is in a serious condition, many men being forced to accept relief for themselves and their dependents from charitable organizations.

"And whereas during the past few years there have been frequent recurrences of periods of acute unemployment.

"Therefore be it resolved that this House urge the Government to take such immediate steps as may be necessary to relieve the present condition of unemployment, and to use every effort to devise and adopt such general policy in regard to labor, industries and capital as will tend to reduce the possibility of periods of acute unemployment arising in the future."

acute unemployment arising in the future."

This resolution is proposed as an amendment to the proposal of Frank Browne, Lai or, Burnaby, that the House go on record as affirming that uremployed should be the first charge on industry.

Discussing his resolution in the House yesterlay Mr. Browne urged the Government to take immediate action to relieve the unemployed and he declared that one of the chief difficulties lay in the employment of outsiders on jobs where local men should have the preference.

The labor member harked back to ancient days and said that in the time of slavery there was no unemployment; that was one of the problems of civilization and a problem, he believed, easy of solution.

He spoke of the great achievements during the war and said it was a disgrace that the country could not achieve in peace what it had achieved in war.

"It is quite possible for us to meet the situation if we organize industry properly," declared Mr. Browne. "There are 750 men in Fernie able to mine coal and there is a like number in Victoria capable of maintaining a working balance if the proper organization is effected."

Australia Solves Exchange Tangle

(Special to The Times)

Sydney. Australia, Dec. 3.—The Commonwealth (Government) has solved the difficulty of financing Australia's wheat and wool exports. Australia's wheat and wool exports. Australia's wheat in London amount to nearly £50,000,000, but to bring money here costs about four per cent. A fear accordingly came over the community that the wool sales might be paralyzed through the real money being almost all in London, and fixed there so the foreign buyers now crowding the sale rooms might not be able to pay.

As this year's wheat crop and wool clip are records the result would have been disastrous if the Commonwealth Bank had not undertaken, with the private banks, to finance wheat, wool, and other primary products to the extent necessary, partly by the issue of new notes and partly by the lissue of new notes and partly by pooling trade bills. The amount involved is about £15,000,000.

Old age pensions would quickly pay for themselves by preventing industrial disputes and reducing present heavy expenditures for the relief of the poor, Hon. In a convincing speech, Mr. Sloan explained in detail the workings of an old age pension system and outlined some of the benefits which it would produce. He expressed the confident hope that the House would demonstrate to the Federal Government unanimously that it wanted old age pensions introduced without delay.

WOULD STOP UNREST

"I believe that there is nothing of greater importunce to the country than old age pensions. If the legislation is wisely drafted and so administered that deserving citizens, men and women who have labored all their lives, lived economically and respectably, and still been unable to put aside enough for maintenance in old age, receive from the State sufficient to furnish the modest requirements of old age, it will justify itself. It will, I hope, banish much of the industrial unrest of the present. In this way it will save employer and employee millions of dollars.

"In British Columbia we have had many costly experiences and fully realize the importance of reducing the frequency of industrial disputes. The loss of time and money that has been involved, both to the people of the district directly affected and to the whole Province, I repeat, is represented in millions.

"In nearly all European countries the governments have made old age pensions a part of their social insurance legislation. Women's Canadian Club Heard Interesting Speaker Yesterday

The Sulgrave movement for the cementing of the ties of friendship between the English-speaking nations was described in the course of an interesting address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. The speaker was Miss Maude Eustace Pearson, for many years a resident of Brooklyn. New York, and the only Canadian woman member on the New York committee of the Sulgrave Society.

Miss Pearson traced the history of the movement and the growth of the Society since its origin many years ago. One of its biggest undertakings had been the purchase of Sulgrave Manor in England, the home of George Washington's ancestors, which was preserved and dedicated to Anglo-American amity. The members of the Society pledged themselves to strengthen the bonds between the British and American by refraining from hasty judgment or unfair criticism and by spreading the gospel of friendship and understanding. In the past two years the society had spent over $700,000 in such works as the preservation of the old church near Sulgrave Manor and the purchase of some of the original furniture used by Washington's ancestors for inclusion in the Manor.

As a Canadian woman, Miss Pearson cited instances coming within her knowledge of prejudice by Canadians against Americans and vice versa, and appealed to the women to work to the removal of misunderstanding. She spoke of the meeting which the Society had planned between the educationists of the Lwo countries with a view to eliminating unfair criticism from the history text-books and the inclusion of facts only.

At the close of the dadress, Mrs. At the close of the British-American League which had been founded in Victoria for just such a purpose as outlined by the speaker. Mrs. H. P. Deputies to Tell About Use of Money in General Election Campaign Last May

Paris, Dec. 3.—A special commis-ion inquiry into the use of "slush nuds" by all the political parties ras created yesterday. The com-nission is to inquire into the mounts of money spent by deputies a the parliamentary campaign last m the parliamentary campaign last May.

The decision to investigate the alleged "slush funds" came after an acrimonious debate, the outgrowth of a statement by Deputy Talitinger that M. Reynaldy, Minister of Commerce, had accepted 10,000 francs from the electoral organization of the Right parties and them had campaigned for the Left parties and became a minister in the Government of the Left. Reynaldy admitted having received the money from the Right organizations in November, 1923, when he was a member of the Right, but he taid he broke with the Rightists in December of the same year. There was an uproar in the Chamber during which enraged depuites of the Right shouted "Resign." and "Give back the money."

Reynaldy said the money had not been used for personal or electoral purposes but was put into his newspaper, The Courriere de L'Aveyron.

NOW IS DISCUSSED

London, Dec. 3.—A number of influential persons, recognizing the genearl regret over former Fremier Asquith's temporary elimination from public life, through his defeat in the last election, have taken the occasion of his holiday in Egypt to agitate again that he be lifted above all political bickerings by the gift of a peerage in the King's New Year's honors list.

There is no doubt this would be a popular move, for the Liberal leader is acclaimed among all classes as one of the great stateSme of British history and there is a general feeling that the gift of a peerage would be only fair reward for his services to the country, extended over nearly half a century.

LLOYD GEORGE OPPOSED

On the other hand, within his own party many are opposed to the supreme leadership of David Lloyd George, which would inevitably follow Mr. Asquith's elevtion to the House of Lords, while others object to his elevation to the Lords as a violation of the Liberal principle that the Upper House is "undemocratic" because it is not elective.

Meanwhile, although it is well known that a number of persons have been quietly working to bring about his elevation. Mr. Asquith's positions is unknown and many think he would decline the honor, as he has done in the past.

manager's View

In a brief review, Sir Frederick, Williams-Taylor, general manager of the bank, said that "business generally in Canada is unsatisfactory, but with some bright spots."

"That general trade is dull, to put it mildly, is no delusion," Sir Frederick said, "Many of our industries are running on half-time, with diminishing profits or no profits at all. Taxation is heavy to an extent which discourages new enterprises. The cost of living is high and our population in point of numbers is at a standstill or worse. These are the conditions as I see them, but I hope and believe we shall emerge from our difficulties presently."

The general manager announced that commercial loans in Canada of Canadian banks were $100,000,000 less than a year ago, and this, he said, was a matter of national importance.

New York, Dec. 3.—As a result of the increase in passenger fares effective December 15, and the preliminary indiction that next season will break all records in the volume of travel to Europe and elsewhere, steamship officials are looking forward to considerable improvement in 1925 over 1924, despite the situation created by immigration restrictions. There have been stories of skippers of various ships whose tastes run in strange directions so far as pets are concerned. On the Peru there are chickens and a goose. The goose is free to wander at will about the ship, but seldom leaves the boat deck. There is its nest. And there it stays for the greater part of the time. But it does not enjoy being disturbed in any way.

Work on the removing of the damaged plates on the ship's hull is going on at a good rate of speed, and considerable progress was made yes-cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2% ounces of Pinex; then sidd plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—susually in 24 hours or less.

Prior at first had been charged with sale of whisky illegally. Magistrate Jay remarked that the information charged the sale of liquor. Liquor had been sold to three Provincial officers by the defendant, alleged Mr. Straith, but retracted it again when challenged by R. C. Lowe for the defence. The officers had sworn to sale of liquor, commented the court.

The minimum sentence under Section $6 of the Government Liquor Act was imposed. Under Section 26, as originally charged, the accused if convicted would have been liable to a jail, term without option of fine. The defence had agreed to plead guilty to the lesser charge intimated Crown counsel, in explaining the matter.

Masterly Survey and Analysis of the Gospel Unionists and Non-unionists Have Reached Agreement on Most Other Clauses of Bill to Come Before Legis-

Sis of the Gospel

Church yesterday was much greater than on the previous day and the interest was more than proportionately increased. In the afternoon Dr. Campbell Morgan gave a masterly survey and analysis of the gospel according to Matthew, in which he found a picture of the historic Christ as the king.

In the evening he spoke in his own inimitable style of the responsibility of the Church concerning the bible. The responsibility is discharged in the preacher's estimation, only when the members of the Church incarnate in their several lives the teaching and spirit of the bible.

The subject announced for this evening is of matchless interest. "The Old Bible and the New Child—How Shall We Keep Them Together?"

"Has the National Life Outgrown the Bible?" was the timely theme dealt with by Dr. Morgan in a masterly address Monday night in St. Andrew's Church. He answered the question with an emphatic negative based on four principles, vis.:

1. The Bible presents a moral conception that has made the great civilizations of the past 2,000 years. That conception is expressed in the Golden Rule.

2. Its conception of God revealed in Christ's character, life and death is the source out of which have sprung all our great philanthropies, as hospitals and refuges.

3. The Bible conception of man has produced the great reforms of history.

4. It reveals the only way in which derelic humanity can be reclaimed. It is a gospel that works. Section eight of the Church Union bill defining the property of non-concurring congregations proved the great stumbling block in the way of the bill passing through the private bill's committee of the Legislature to-day. All except five other sections passed the committee, as unionists and anti-unionists got together on the points at issue. Of the sections on which an agreement has not been reached the property element creeps in in most instances. Section four relates to the property of congregations and to trusts. It provides for all property held by or in trust for a congregation of the negotiating churches shall become part of the United Church.

Nothing in the section should relate to the Presbyterian Church was the text of an amendment submitted by Mr. Lawson. Other section standing over are 29, concerning civil and property right, and the date when the Act shall come into force.

the Act shall come into force.

BY SECRET BALLOT

An amendment to section 8 of the bill offered by J. B. Clearthue, counsel for the unionists, provided for a vote of a congregation as to whether or not it should enter the union to be by secret bailot. The section in the bill calls for the vote to be taken by June 10, 1925, and Mr. Clearthue's proposed amendment called for two weeks to be allowed for the taking of the vote.

The amendment also limited those entitled to vote to persons in full membership whose names were on the roll of the church on July 19, 1924, or who by the constitution of the church would have been entitled to vote, at a meeting of the congregation on matters affecting the disposal of church property on July 19, 1924.

This amendment being of a controversial nature was allowed to stand over for future discussion.

An amendment to section 2 subsection 8, striking out the words "managers of ministers; widows and orphans' fund of the synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in connection with the Church of Scotland." The managers were eliminated from those included in the Presbyterian Church in Canada for the purpose of the bill. J. H. Lawson, counsel for the anti-unionists, agreed to the amendment and the clause passed the committee.

Oak Bay Ratepayers to Meet Shortly to Determine Course

in January Elections

The possibility of entering a slate of candidates for the municipal elections in Oak Bay will be considered by a meeting of the Resident Ratepayers Association of that district to be held this week. Last year the association put a slate into the fleld and succeeded in electing most of them to office. This year there is some doubt as to whether or not a concrete list of names will be put forward for office or whether the members will vote individually.

So far candidates for office in Oak Bay have witheld their intentions. It is understood that the majority of the present council will be again in the field. Regrets are expressed by a large section of the municipality that Reeve Harold F. Hewlett, returned by acclamation last year, will not permit his name to go forward for the 1265 roster of candidates. To issue last year was the taxation of improvements, a point that nearly came to unseating anti-improvement taxation candidates shortly after they had taken office.

Minors Tell Majors Where They Get Off at: Going at it Again To-day

Vancouver, Dec. 3.—High School ruggers will get their chance to occupy the spotlight on Saturday afternoon at Brockton Point, according to the decision of Vancouver Rugby Union executive. The final game for the Thompson Cup, emblematic of the provincial inter-high school title, will be staged at 2 o'clock.

King George and Oak Bay, mainland and Island winners respectively, will meet in this game, which is the annual classic of the high schools. A large turnout of high schools at large turnout of high school students is expected. A Victoria referee will be in charge.

The Rugby Union executive also decided to call a general meeting of clubs next Monday night at 5.30 o'clock in the Winch Bullding, to make a change in the personnel of the selection committee. One or more members will be added, so that ail teams playing in the Miller Cup series will be represented.

The Oak Bay High School team is League on option but I have never been given a satisfactory answer.

"How many players on option were in our league last year?" asked Toole of Farrell.

"I don't know. I didn't count them," said Farrell.

"It's your business as secretary of our association to count them and let us know how we stand," Toole retorted. "Why didn't you stop the flow of such deals when eight had been reached?"

To which Farrell replied:

"All players in your league on option above eight are there because Judge Landis ruled that the majors were within their rights to dispose of fifteen players in this manner and I don't feel that I have the authority to overrule Judge Landis."

After a long and heated discussion the magnates voted to lay the matter over until to-day.

The Cougars left for Winnipeg after the game last night and will meet the Regina Capitals there to-morrow night. After that game the Cougars will take things sasy and prepare for the opening league game against Calgary on Monday night.

On New Year's Day the Y.M.C.A. will stage its annual junior relay road race and it is expected that it will prove a big success. Last year the race created great interest among the boys and this year a number of fine teams will be entered.

Last year's course, from Beacon Hill Park to the Y.M.C.A. via Vancouver Street, was found so much more satisfactory than the old run from the Willows through the "Dardanelles" that the committee will stick to the new route.

NEW SAILING SHIP—The Rotor ship Buckau is shown above in Hamburg Harbor after having completed her trial voyage. Below is her inventor, Anton Flettner, on left, and her skipper, Herr Gerhards, with beard. Although having no sails, the boat relies for propulsion upon the wind. The air currents are utilized on the turbine principle being passed through a series of cylinders with the hollow metal masts shown in the above picture. These large towers are sixty feet high and nine feet in diameter. They yield fifteen times more propelling force than the same area of canvas and do away with the heavy leeway attendant upon sails.

New York, N.Y., Dec. 3 (By R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)—Trading was on a larger scale to-day as compared with the turnover of yesterday and the total volume was a little in excess of the two million shares. Most of the animation was discernible in the rail and copper groups where some fair sized advances were registered, metal prices generally speaking continue to show a greater degree of strength and this seems to be reviving a renewal of bullish ideas in the general run of securities directly affiliated with the metal securities. The steel business has progressed to a point where operating capacity averages above 70 per cent. for the industry as a whole railroads are ordering equipment in large volume and other various lines of important industrial trade are handling a larger turnover of business. With these facts at hand it is only natare ordering equipment in large volume and other various lines of important industrial trade are handling a larger turnover of business. With these facts at hand it is only natural that the consumption of the various metal show an increase. The high spot in to-day's developments was the president's message. The high spot in to-day's developments was the president's message. The high spot in to-day's developments was the president's message. The high spot in to-day's developments was the president's message. The high spot in to-day's developments was the president's message was looked upon as being of a rather pronounced constructive sort and was well received. Certain features in the message came in for much discussion and in the afternoon dealings, the interpretation placed on same started a fresh forward movement with the rails in the lead.

The action of the market in gending and with such a widespread of opinion existing if may be that the advancing tendency in security prices may continue longer than many were inclined to expect a short time ago, of course, there will be the natural interruptions to the upswing in price growing out of periods of profit taking.

New York, Dec. 3 (by B. C. Bond Corporation). — The Wall Street Journal is its stock market comments this afternoon says:

"Plenty of buillsh ammunition was supplied in the day's news to keep the market going ahead at full speed. Steel news was again constructive, both the Iron Age and Iron Trade Review stressing the importance of increasing steel consumption. Operations continue on an upward trend and December activity may reach the high rate attained in the early months of the year. Builish enthusiasm was further augmented by the Dow-Jones statement that U. S. Steel's forward business would show a substantial gain over the previous month. Trade estimates are that the increase in unfilled orders will total 300,000 tons, but in view of the enormous bookings it would not be surprising if the gain reached considerably higher proportions. The Corporation is now operating close to 75 per cent capacity, and an expansion of 15 per cent in the last several weeks. Adequate basis for the buoyancy of the rails was furnished by. President Coolidge's reference to the transportation situation, and the right of the carriers to build up their properties and be allowed adequate profits on same.

Chicago. Ills... Dec. 2 (By R. P. Clark & company Limited)—Wheat: The market turned strong to-day after a weak ope...ing. The December was well bought and advanced in favor of the May. Strength in corn was a factor and there was free short covering. Argentine news continues of a sensational kind, although plate wheat prices are now cheaper than ever. Cash wheat was firmer and also at other markets and while some Omaha wheat was bought to come here, it was a relatively high basis. Receipts generally are expected to fall off sharply, especially in the nortiwest, while shipments to the east are expected to be liberal. Export business was moderate but the fact that prices for spot wheat are well maintained shows that there is really little pressure from the big visible stocks. Should receipts decrease as expected and with 160,000,000 bushels of our surplus already sold and cleared, the situation looks especially strong and even the English statistics admit that Europe must have liberal amount of United States wheat right along. On the setbácks would not hesitate to buy wheat.

Corn. Buil support was renewed in corn, the bears having a bad day. Cash demand was better with receipts moderate here and in the west for this time of year. Cash prices for new corn were relatively quarter to half a cent up, and reports from various parts of the belt indicated that receipts will continue moderate and that farmers are selling but little, while the claims of disappointing yields are almost universal. It is aunderstood that there will be no necessity of car deliveries for some removed there was active buying which, we think the situation justic. es.

PRINCE IS GUEST

London, Dec. 3 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Prince of Wales is spending most of this week visiting the Earl of Hinto and the Countees of Minto, (formerly Marion Cook of Montreal) at Minto House, Hawick.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Over R. P. Clark leased Wire)—Price Current, the authoritative publication of the grain authoritative publication of the grain trade, is buillish on the present situation. In its issue, to-day it says:
"There is probably only about fifty million bushels wheat remaining unsold for export in U.S. at present time. Figuring on export total around 250,000,000 would not be improbable, if total exports from July 1 to December 30 equalled 200,000,000. By March I, statistics should indicate that this country is in danger of over exporting even though Europe stops buying from us by end of year. There is normal business done with many countries regardless of price sufficiently large to take care of all wheat that we have unsold at present time."

OUTLINES PLAN FOR

Alderman Woodward's Project is Stated to Indicate Policy of Shifting Burden During Present Critical Years of City's History.

A plan to re-arrange the Victoria city debt, in order to give taxation relief to the extent of $250,000 per year, has been prepared by Alderman Woodward. It has been presented to several local organizations and considered to have many meritorious features, but owing to the lateness of the season, it was decided not to procede with application for its legislative endorsation by private bill at the present session of the Legislature. The plan is now made public for general consideration.

"The remedy for the city's problem," says Alderman Woodward,
"lies not in the multiplication of taxes, but in their reduction: not in broadening the basis but in reducing the amount: not in crushing business and destroying hope and faith, but im giving relief and inducing optimism and prosperity. The fact is that more taxes are being levied than the people can pay. Tax reduction means

"The plan is worth adoption. It is brings immediate relief to the extent of $250,000 a year for 10 years. The taxpayers need it, business requires it, necessity compels it. It means the difference between good times and bad. It is for the citizens to insist on having it embodied in the City's legislation at the special seasion of the Legislature in 1925.
